Qualifications:

I earned my Master's Degree in Clinical Mental Health at Lakeland University in 2025. I currently have a training license in Professional Counseling issued by the State of Wisconsin and certification in counseling by the National Board of Certified Counseling. The Department of Safety and Professional Services in Wisconsin has approved Christine Nett LCSW, CSAS, ICS to be my LPC board-approved supervisor in order to obtain supervised experience hours needed to become a fully licensed LPC in the State of Wisconsin.

Area of Focus:

My focus includes an array of mental health concerns and have treated, but are not limited to: Substance Use, Anger, Anxiety, Depression, Family/couple disorders, and more.

Office Procedures:

Appointments are typically set at the end of each session. Appointments may be scheduled, rescheduled, or cancelled with the receptionist from 8:00 AM to 5:00 PM, Monday through Thursday. Failure to give proper notice for any appointment not cancelled within 24 hours in advance may result in a charge for the time reserve for you. Two or more failures to give notice will result in discontinued treatment.

Services Offered:

My main approach in therapy is person-centered and cognitive-behavioral therapy as I view every person as unique and different. I like to pair these approaches with IFS (Internal Family System Model) and TTM (Transtheoretical Model). I also have clients who explore art therapy and role playing as these will shed light on topics we struggle to verbalize at times. I focus on tailoring each treatment to the client's specific needs while being direct in terminology to ensure clients begin to take hold of problems/struggles at hand. I have experiences treating a broad range of diagnosis ranging from co-occurring disorders, substance abuse, and mental health disorders.

I have read the Declaration of Practices and Procedure of Thai Yang LPC-IT, SAC-IT, and my signature below dictates my full informed consent to the services provided by Thai Yang LPC-IT, SAC-IT. I am aware that he may share information with Christine Nett, LCSW, CSAC, ICS, for the sole purpose of supervision toward licensure and information shared in supervision may not be used for any other purposes.
